

Abstract

An object of the present invention is to provide a composition for the oral cavity which protects gingiva and oral mucosas against a bleaching treatment with a tooth bleaching agent. The present invention provides a composition for the oral cavity containing a free radical scavenger.